

How Can I As a Dean Help Support My Program Through The Process? What Specific Role Should I Play?

September 9, 2021

The Voices

Christopher Metsgar
Dean of Allied Health and Nursing
Inver Hills Community College

Jennifer Anderson Warwick
Accreditation Consultant

Patricia Tritt
Day Job: Director of Instruction, AMR Learning
Volunteer Role:
Past Board Member

Takeaways

- Describe how the Dean can assist the Paramedic Program
- Understand why the Program Director should not surprise the Dean
- Identify where the Paramedic program's champions are internally and externally
- List potential resources within the Paramedic Program
- Discuss how Programmatic accreditation assists and supports institutional accreditation

Assistance

Accreditation

Background

Institutional
Resources

External
Resources

Communication

No surprises

Manage up
program

Wins and challenges

Elevator
speech

Files and Reports

Champions

Internal

External

Strengthening
these relationships

Aware of changes in service area

Resources

Standards and Interpretations

Annual Reports

Resource Assessment

Accreditation/reaccreditation

Advisory Committee

Medical Direction

Grievances

Support

Campus Resources

Professional Development

Center for Teaching and Learning

Student
Services

Accessibility

Accreditation

Ensures credibility of the program

Don't duplicate work

Annual reports and actions may meet Institutional Accreditation

Accreditation is an everyday activity

Thank you.